What's the Truth About the COVID-19 Vaccine and Black

Dr. Jackie Walters
OBGYN

Dear Reader,

Studies have shown that the Black community is disproportionately experiencing devastating effects from COVID-19, and a large factor of that has become vaccine hesitancy. Much of our hesitancy comes from a complicated history with medicine, but also the many rumors circulating in our trusted friend groups online and in person.

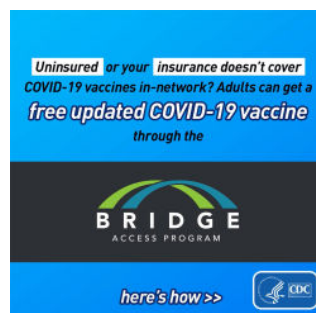

So what's the truth? Are we in danger of fertility or other health issues if we get the vaccine? The answer is no!

The National Council of Negro Women has set out to separate fact from fiction, and what we have learned is much of the negative effects we've heard through rumor is simply that.
